

about us...

What makes Global Staffing Service a unique staffing alternative? We are committed to being a national leader in quality and flexible solutions to provide our clients with exactly the right fit. We have in-depth understanding of the processes and systems critical to the leading service and production companies. This enables us to meet the need for performance driven contract labor allowing our clients to effectively control their labor cost.

Our flexibility and commitment to customized solutions is unsurpassed. Global Staffing Service has carefully designed an array of service offerings to meet the individual needs of our clients. In addition to providing short-term and long-term support staff for peak periods of production demand, we are also experienced in implementing innovative strategic solutions for more extensive requirements.

vendor on-site

For more extensive support we offer a vendor on premise program which is a turn key package for companies who want us to handle every detail, from drug screening and criminal background checks to job training. If selected, our on site representative will be in place from the start of the program.

recruiting for your perm staff

As a result of our extensive screening commitment about 1 in 5 of every Global Staffing Service associate who goes to work for us becomes a "full-time" or "permanent" employee crossing over to our client's regular payroll. Since our company's inception, every associate sent to work by Global Staffing Service has submitted to a comprehensive criminal background check and a 5-panel drug-screening test. This affords Global Staffing Service with an extensive pre-screened workforce that our clients turn to when they need skilled or reliable workers for critical positions.

staffing for you

Global Staffing Service specializes in providing experienced and well-prepared associates to skilled and semi-skilled assignments. We establish ourselves as a key business partner supporting our clients flex-force workforce requirements during their peak season or vacation workforce needs allowing them to maintain or archive their production objectives.

Combining a thorough understanding of your needs with the capabilities of our associates, we can match the right worker to the right environment, ensuring you optimal efficiency and productivity.
